Note

this is not a great hero image - i'm thinking we move the social feed to the hero - i'll send style info but they should rotate through posts and the cards should be square with brand corner radius, slight shadow effect, but with a rotation of patterns from the textures folder, photo only, hyperlink to live post, on hover see animation. below the photo is a separate rectangle with product info and post text - rotate through the below products the atomic homes section doesn't seem like any effort whatsoever was put into finding a real connected solution or matching descriptions to product photos. these are all completely wrong product descriptions, photos, they are not connected and the product photos that were added are not items that have been sold let alone items that would be in a customers home. we need to see if there is a way to connect the highlight real of atomic homes shared posts directly inside the website or at the very least try to recreate the component based on products and descriptions of REAL SOLD products. Again this is a highlight reel and we can find it in IG by looking at the highlight at the top of the profile and we can. also pull data from another highlight that features sold items.

Note

Note

now nacho is too big and this is still not a proper scroll effect - the image stay static and fade in as the user scrolls - all while another layer of stars is starts as full bleed animation and fades out as nacho fades in. more stars, more size of star variations, and more impactful animation

FOUNDATIONS

Logo & marks

Three official lockups. The stacked wordmark is primary. All three are set in Mamba — the wordmark is the typeface, so never re-set it in a substitute face.

Primary — stacked wordmark. Avocado green with the atx script in burnt orange. Default for light/cream grounds.

Reversed badge. Use where the mark needs to hold its own against photography or a busy ground.

AF roundel. The small-space mark — avatars, stamps, tags, favicons. Holds legibility down to 32px.

DO

- Give the mark clear space of at least the cap-height of the A on all sides.
- Drop to the AF roundel below ~140px of available width.
- Let the sparkle accompany the mark — it is the primary motif.

DON'T

- Fuse the Solihiya weave — or any texture — into the mark. The weave is a credited material, not brand property.
- Recolour the wordmark outside avocado / cream / burnt orange.
- Stretch, outline, add a drop shadow, or set it in a substitute typeface.
